In all, 325 students were on the honor roll for the quarter, 40 per cent of the entire student body.

The seventh grade was the top group with 44 per cent achieving the list, the eighth grade had 42 per cent and the fifth and sixth grades each had 32 per cent.

And on June 13, 211 eighth graders will graduate with ceremonies beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Middle School.

City Council Tightens Residential Area Motel Law In Quiet Session

Last night the Carmel City Council took a long step toward stopping further expansion of the motels located in residential areas.

It did so with all its members present, and it acted unanimously. Little discussion preceded the Council action, and none of that discussion was heated.

And just what was that long step? It was the approval, upon first reading, of an ordinance intended to close loopholes in the original motel-control ordinance passed more than a year ago. The title of the new amending ordinance tells in broad terms what its details spell out. The title is: "An ordinance prohibiting the expansion or enlargement of building floor area, lodging units, and kitchens" in motels in Carmel residential areas.

The ordinance provides that motels in the residential sections of the city may not increase either in use or in area beyond the bounds they had reached by Jan. 1, 1967.

Before the Council took its vote, Councilman Herbert Blanks asked City Attorney William Burleigh if he felt that the City could defend the proposed ordinance in court if the need should arise. While Burleigh said he could make no blanket promise in advance, he did say he would be "glad to fight" for the new ordinance if the need should arise.

In another matter, which has been pending for a considerable time, the Council heard two reports on a proposal for scenic highway treatment of the road which the state highway department has long planned to construct in what is called the Hatton Canyon corridor.

In one of the reports, prepared for a Council appointed ad hoc committee by City Planning Director John Riling, the statement was made that the state highway department "no longer classifies the Hatton Canyon route as a freeway."

This observation was questioned by Admiral C. W. Fisher (USN-Ret), who felt the city should recognize that the route is still included in the state's long-established master plan for freeways, and that the City

Stone To Discuss 'The Artist and Woman' At Town House Wednesday

The Carmel Foundation will present William F. Stone Jr. in a discussion of "The Artist and Woman," Wednesday, June 11, at 2:30, at the Town House, Lincoln near 8th.

"The female figure," said Stone, "has been one of the primary subject matters of artists throughout the years."

He will describe and illustrate with color slides the varied treatment women have received during the Renaissance with religious backgrounds, traditional painting which followed French impressionists, and modern and abstract painting.

Stone is head of the art department at Carmel High School. He is well known to Peninsula residents for his lecture series at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art. He has also lectured art history to civic groups and art leagues throughout the area, as well as given collage demonstrations. In these, as he talks, he creates a finished, framed picture from torn newspapers and magazines.

Currently he has two one-man shows in progress at Sacramento's Nouveau Gallery: paintings and collages.

The public is invited to the lecture-slide program, and to fthe tea which will be served following the program.

Panhandler Hits Wrong Prospect

A long haired male panhandler asked a lady for a handout on Ocean Ave. Monday afternoon.

Which was a mistake . . . a serious mistake.

It was a mistake because the lady was the wife of Carmel's chief of police, Clyde Klaumann.

She told the panhandler "Why should I work for your living?"

Then she marched into Fortier's Drug Store and telephoned the police station.

Sergeant Wermuth responded immediately, and Mrs. Klaumann made a citizen's arrest.

The panhandler wound up with a 30 day sentence 20 days of which were suspended.

'The Del Monte Galleries Revisited' At Carmel Museum Through August

The Carmel Museum of Art will begin its summer exhibition "The Del Monte Galleries Reviisted" Saturday, June 7.

This exhibit deals with the first western art gallery concerning itself exclusively with California painters and photographers.

The museum will feature an unusual collection of paintings first shown at the opening of the west's most famous art gallery in the glamorous old Hotel Del Monte in Monterey (today's United States Naval Postgraduate school).

Following the earthquake and fire in San Francisco, April of 1906, many artists lost their studios and scores of them fled to the Peninsula. The hotel converted its ballroom into a gallery in order to give them a sales outlet for their work.

Only the art of Californians was shown, and only those of the highest caliber.

The Del Monte Art Gallery was an immediate and stunning success, establishing California painters as among the finest of the Nation's luminists.

The Carmel Museum of Art will exhibit many of these original paintings from June to Aug. 29.

City Council Tightens Residential Area Motel Law In Quiet Session

therefore should be aware of the danger posed by this circumstance.

It was pointed out that the City Council once passed its resolution No. 2359 which had asked the state legislature so to amend Section 253 of the California Strees and Highways Code, that the freeway would be stopped at Carmel Hill which it has now reached. Although the Monterey City Council also passed a similar resolution at about the same time, the state legislature has so far not made the change which both Carmel and Monterey have long sought. Consequently the portion of Highway 1 from the top of Carmel Hill to the Carmel River, could still eventually become the kind of full freeway which most Carmelites have long wanted to prevent, unless meanwhile the Strees and Highways Code can be appropriately amended by the state legislature.

Further discussion of the Hatton Canyon roadway was postponed until Wednesday night when the City Council will meet in adjourned session, to consider this and other matters. Planning Director Riling was asked to prepare a revised report on the Hatton Canyon roadway proposal by that time.

In other action, the Council employed an assistant city administrator for the first time. This position had been under discussion by the Council in preceding years, but no decision had been made to fill it. As a result of last night's decision, Ralph E. Cowen Jr. will become assistant city administrator July 1.

City Administrator Hugh Bayless said the position was needed because City Finance Officer Arthur Plaxton plans to retire next year, and it would therefore become necessary to begin training someone to take his place. Bayless also said he felt someone should become acquainted with his own tasks in the event his own duties might have to be performed some day by someone else. Cowen therefore was employed in the new position at a salary of $818 a month. He comes to Carmel from Stockton where he has served as engineering aide in that city's fire department. He is married, and the couple have one child. He is 41 years of age, and served in the air force following World War II. He is a graduate of San Joaquin Delta College.

In a different matter, the Council gave final approval to an ordinance which defines a motel more precisely than it has been described in the past.

Several matters on the agenda were postponed for later consideration. One such matter was the question of the renewal of the lease on the Carmel Youth Center property to that organization. City Attorney Burleigh was directed to explore the possibility of a 10-year renewal period instead of the 20-year term proposed.

A mutual aid agreement for fire protection in affected areas, was renewed with the State Division of Forestry station on Carmel Hill.

REAGAN VISIT — California Governor Ronald Reagan, left was the guest of honor at a $100-a-plate Republican dinner Tuesday night, given for Bob Wood, right, candidate for State Assembly. Reagan said that party members in California should support thier own candidates, and added that the administration needs a Republican majority support in the assembly. More than 450 people attended the dinner, and accorded both Governor Reagan and Bob Wood standing ovations on several occasions.

A VARIETY OF PICKETS—A group of pickets, plumping for different causes ranging from the plight of distressed farm workers to the People's Park in Berkeley, greeted Governor Ronald Reagan when he arrived at the Monterey Fairgrounds for the dinner in honor of Bob Wood, Republican candidate for the State Assembly seat vacated by the tragic death of Alan Patter

NEW PRO — Lee M. Martin, 30, a PGA member, has just been appointed head golf professional at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club. Martin, a graduate of Ventura College and Los Angeles State College, and veteran of five years' military service in the U. S. Marine Corps, was assistant pro at Bakersfield Country Club, Bakersfield, California, for four years. He was California Collegiate Athletic Association Medal Champion in 1961, and was a member of the varsity golf teams at both Ventura and L. A. State — as well as being a member of the West Team, NCAA, at Purdue in 1961. Martin has played in numerous California golf tournaments — his most recent win being the San Joaquin Pro-Am Tournament.

Next in its series of local artists, the Carmel Foundation will show the paintings of Edda Heath (Mrs. E. M. Pappel) at the Town House, Lincoln near 8th.

She studied painting under Arthur Dow and Frank Dumond of the Pratt Institute in New York, and portraiture with William M. Chase. She has exhibited in Maine, New York and many cities of California — Los Angeles, Sacramento, Santa Cruz, Carmel and Oakland.

The public is invited to the showing during the month of June.

Rody Holt Honored By Auxiliary

The spring meeting of the Community Hospital Auxiliary at Del Monte lodge on June 2, two days after the '69 Concours in the same setting, provided the opportunity to honor Mrs. Rody Holt for the nine successive years she has directed the activities of the auxiliary for the Del Monte Properties annual Community Hospital fund raising benefit, the Gwenn Graham Concours.

Mrs. Robert Mackay Brown, Assistant Concours Chairman for the Auxiliary, and a past-president of the organization, presented Mrs. Holt with a scroll for outstanding service to the Auxiliary. Mrs. Holt reported that, as of June 2, the Concours receipts totaled $8,679.95, with expenses yet to be deducted. She stated further that it had been the best year they have had.

Hospital Administrator, Thomas E. Tonkin, spoke briefly. He said it is expected that the present addition will be ready for occupancy by fall of 1970. He praised the auxiliary, medical and hospital staffs for the recognition achieved by Community Hospital in patient care, which he had personally noted in his visits to various parts of the State as president-elect of the California Hospital Association.

Dr. Tom Morris, President of Community Hospital Medical Staff, addressed the assemblage of Pink Ladies on the organization of the medical staff, and how it relates to patient care and the Auxiliary, giving special attention to the purposes of the fifteen committees which are made up of seventy staff doctors.

Auxiliary President, Mrs. Barbara Haber, presided over the morning coffee meeting, and Mrs. Joseph W. Earnshaw as program chairman was responsible for all arrangements.

Concours Luncheon

The Gwenn Graham Concours did not end on Saturday, as one would think.

After the annual meeting Monday morning, most of the Community Hosiptal Auxiliary workers who helped on decorations and other committees met for luncheon at the home of Mrs. Harry Lusignan in Pebble Beach to honor Rody Holt.

French Scholarship Winners Awarded

Last Saturday at a luncheon at the home of Col. and Mrs. James Hathaway in Pacific Grove, two French scholarships from the local Alliance Francaise were awarded by Mrs. Jerome Carlson, scholarship committee chairman.

The two recipients were Miss Melody Melinsky, UC Santa Barbara, and David Mehall, both of Monterey. They will attend the summer course in French at the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies.

The tests were conducted by two accredited French instructions of the local Alliance, Mrs. Jack Longfellow and Mrs. John Dowdakin of Carmel Valley. Judges were Mr. George Henri Picard, Head of the French Dept. at the Presidio D.L.I., Mrs. Kirby Low and Mrs. Dowdakin, aided by Mrs. Ann Berthoin.

Chancellor Samson B. Knoll of the MIFS and Mrs. Knoll also witnessed the event.

MERIENDA DONCELLA — Miss Sally Hudson, who lives on the Pt. Lobos ranch once owned by her great-grandfather, Alexander McMillan Allan and wife Satie, will serve as attendant for Miss Polly Campbell of Carmel who was chosen La Favorita for the 1969 Merienda by Monterey History and Art Association. Her great-grandfather a noted race course designer came to this area in 1894 from Pennsylvania looking for coal to mine in the Santa Lucia Mountains. Instead he bought the large ranch covering Pt. Lobos and raised his family there, not far from the Little Red School House near San Jose Creek. Even before he sold the land to the state in 1932, Allan had made a game refuge and park surrounding the world famous promontory. One of his children, Sally's grandmother, Mrs. Lester J. (Margaret Allan) Hudson, and her husband, Rear Adm. Hudson, still live on the ranch. She was the Merienda Duena in 1964. Sally's parents Mr. and Mrs. Thomson J. (Jane Taylor) Hudson, also have a house on the ranch. A Monterey attorney, Hudson served for 11 years as a county supervisor. The whole family, including Sally's brothers, Dan Taylor Hudson and Thomson Jay Hudson Jr., have been active in polo as a family sport. Sally's maternal great-grandfather, Henri Verrue, came from France in 1870 and founded the first Protestant mission in San Francisco. He and his wife, Eva Stacey Kenney, later made their home in Carmel Valley where he was land manager for the Pacific Improvement Co., predecessor of Del Monte Properties.

Louisiana Plantation

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Paul who lived for many years at Rancho Rio Vista returned recently from a trip through the South.

They were guests at Rosedown Plantation and Gardens in St. Francisville, Louisiana.

Rosedown is a restored plantation empire in the Felicianas, the region made famous by the artist-naturalist John Audubon, who painted more than thirty of his famous birdlife studies more than a century ago.

Their visit coincided with the peak bloom of thousands of rare old roses, hydrangeas, caladiums and other summer flowers.

They went on to Florida to visit Miami and tour the coastline up to Williamsburg, Virginia where they spent a few days reliving the gracious way they used to live during the ante bellum days.

The Pauls, children grown, now have a home on Jack's Peak, just over the border from Carmel.

Twins Born

The younger Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Waligora of Pebble Beach became parents of Brian Matthew and Susan Elaine Waligora on May 12.

A WEDDING IN COPENHAGEN — Will take place next Sunday, June 8, when Mike Brown of Carmel claims his bride, Lis Bonde, to whom he has been engaged for two years. RIVER SCENE — This oil painting of boats on a European river by Samuel F. B. Morse is presently on loan to the Monterey Peninsula Country Club, and is a fine example of the paintings and charcoals now on display at the Robert Louis Stevenson School. This painting, titled "River Scene," was loaned by its owner, John Logan of Pebble Beach.

First Memorial Showing of The Art Work of S. F. B. Morse Now At RLS

In the building named in his honor, the first memorial exhibition of the works of Samuel F .B. Morse are being shown this week on the campus of The Robert Louis Stevenson School.

Gathered under the direction of Justin Dart, longtime friend of Morse, the paintings and charcoal sketches show the artist's expertise in what he considered his "wonderful hobby."

This is the second collected showing of the late Morse's art work and includes eight of his charcoal studies of the Monterey Peninsula's cypress trees and assorted pastels and watercolors featuring "San Marino," "Impressions of Istanbul," "Roman Bridge," "Girl with a Hat," "Dalmation Coast," and "Barbados."

Through the graciousness of Mrs. Morse, the Del Monte Lodge, and several local residents who loaned paintings to the exhibition, it will be available for viewing by the public on Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. The gallery hours are 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Drug Abuse Specialist Bellizio Tells CUSD of Salinas Schools' Solution

By Margot Hyatt

Elgie Bellizio, teacher - specialist on juvenile drug abuse, was invited to describe the counseling program designed and executed by the Salinas Union High School District to the Carmel School Board at last week's meeting.

When the Salinas district found that punitive measures of suspending and expelling did not work, said Bellizio, they decided to explore other ways that might.

They gave Bellizio the time and the money to travel around the state to gather information on the content, use, and consequences of the various drugs and drug derivatives.

He visited the UC Medical Center and the Haight-Ashbury clinic and the state hospitals. He met with state and federal law enforcement people and followed cases through the courts. He spent time at the California Youth Authority and state prisons.

After several months he began to meet with students, in groups and individually, to get them to tell him why they take drugs, what it does to them.

He found that kids with problems, family, social or school, need help, someone to answer questions, someone to talk to who they feel is really interested in them.

He found amazing ignorance of drugs, especially at the junior high school level. These youngsters, he said, would put anything in their mouths, no matter how dangerous the dosage; how unsanitary the conditions under which it was produced and handled.

They would frequently get taken for large sums for "joints" of dried parsley or weeds, rolled to look like marijuana.

Bellizio is now conducting workshops for teachers, counsellors and parents, some sessions lasting three or four hours.

Nancy Bottero, health teacher at the high school, described the drugs and communication meeting at Brey Hall the previous Monday.

Nearly 250 people crowded the hall, about 25 per cent adults, the rest high school students.

Conceived, organized and put on by students in the class, the purpose of the meeting was to find out about drugs: what they are, what they do, and why they are used.

Invited by the students to answer questions were Drs. Timothy Hobson, Bill Lewis, Bill Wenner and Mrs. Laurie Semple, all on the board of the Drug Information and Youth Crisis Center in Pacific Grove which maintains a 24 hour emergency telephone service.

Country Club Holds 5th Annual Arts And Crafts Exhibit for Members

By Louise Cook

The fifth annual Arts and Crafts Exhibit at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club brings forth the hidden talents of many of its members.

There are examples of collage, decoupage, stitchery, mosaics, weaving, photography, enamel on copper and batik as well as water color and oil paintings.

Many of the amateurs stand up very well next to the professionals in this group show.

"Jim" by Helen Koepke is a sensitive portrait of a young boy which reveals his inner vitality.

Kent Davis contributed "Snug Harbor," a moonlit view of two boats tied up for the night, done with imagination and a mature hand.

Dinti Noack enlivens the show with the humor and gay colors of "Flowers" and "Elephant." "Carmelite Monastery," a brilliant water color and "Claudia," a penetrating portrait, express the natural talent and extensive background of study of Anne Carlson.

The twiggy, leafless trees and blue shadows on the new-fallen snow of "First Snow" create the chilly atmosphere sought by the artist, Al Wascher.

Bold use of paint and strong, clear color give "Valley Church" by champion golfer Kathleen McDonald strength and warmth.

The extraordinary talent and technical skill of James Peter Cost shows forth in "Pewter Evening," a small oil, and "Winter Lace," a delicately done water color.

"Aslan," woven by Frances Hibbs, is a friendly lion with a shaggy mane.

John Logan has loaned "River Scene" by S.F.B. Morse, a fitting and sentimental addition to the exhibit. This is done with Mr. Morse's talent for style and pared-down detail.

"Carmelite Monastery" by Anne Carlson

"Elephant" by Dinti Noack

Ida Leach Show At Aardvark Gallery

A new artist will be introduced to the peninsula this Friday evening when The Aardvark hosts a preview party at its gallery in Bernadelli Square, Carmel Valley, from 5:30 to 8 p.m.

The Aardvark is showing oil paintings by Ida Laura Leach through the month of June. Although Mrs. Leach has been a resident of Pacific Grove since 1963, this marks her first important showing in this area. This popular artist has shown principally in the San Francisco bay area, in Southern California, and in other states in the east.

Author Anais Nin has written about Mrs. Leach, "To Ida's night world — the houses containing death but still warm with life on the outside, the lonely ones with the lowered lids, the moments of ecstasy, the explosions of rutilant colors, a joyous black shed, a flowing street, a musical dissolution of a bridge, and a multitude of moods lived and about to be lived — a strong painter's world and the blueprint for future lives."

The public is invited to the party honoring Mrs. Leach who is well-known in Laguna Beach art circles, having twice won the coveted first prize in oils in the Laguna Beach Art Association's annual awards exhibit.

Refreshments will be served.

Farrell New MD

Thomas C. Farrell Jr. of Carmel, received a doctor of medicine degree in New Orleans, Monday, June 2, during the annual graduation exercises of Tulane University.

Camp 'Quien Sabe' Opens June 23

Camp Quien Sabe, the City of Monterey Recreation Department summer camp is open to the children of the Carmel area as well as other Peninsula communities.

The camp for boys and girls aged 8½ to 14 is located at the Big Sur State Park.

There will be three sessions of camp, each lasting five days, beginning June 23, June 30 and July 7.

The campers, sixty a week, will be transported on Monday morning by school bus from the Monterey Recreation Department office to the camp and returned Friday afternoon.

Quien Sabe is situated in a beautiful redwood forest bordered on one edge by the Big Sur River. The camp is equipped with modern kitchen and restroom facilities. The camp has a private beach on the Big Sur River for swimming.

Campers will sleep out of doors in sleeping bags under the redwoods. Each day is ended with a rousing campfire program that campers and staff participate in.

The camp has a full time experienced staff of 12, including an excellent camp cook.

The camp will be directed this year by Donald and Helen Reed, Peninsula teachers who have had long association with the Monterey Recreation Department.

The aim of the camp is to help the camper learn camping practices, to appreciate the intricate and delicate balance of nature, trail manners and hiking safety, outdoor cookery, water safety, how to live with a group.

The fee for each session of camp is $30 for people outside of Monterey and $25 for city of Monterey residents. Reservations are being taken now.

More information may be obtained by phoning the Monterey Recreation Department at 372-8121, ext. 281.

League Buys 1,196 Acre 'Inholding'

The Save - the - Redwoods League has purchased an important "inholding" within Humboldt Redwoods State Park — 1,196 acres of Redwood and Douglas fir which will be added to the Park when matching State funds become available.

The property, west of the South Fork of the Eel River opposite the town of Weott, is surrounded by park lands on three sides. It was purchased from Pacific Lumber Company for $700,000 with funds donated to the League by private contributors throughout the United States.

The purchase is a big step in rounding out park ownership in the South Fork of the Eel drainage and has been high on the League's list of Redwood preservation priorities for many years.

There has been the danger that the parcel would fall into the hands of the subdividers as it is very near the Avenue of the Giants.

Humboldt Redwoods State Park, the largest and considered by some the finest of the State Redwood Parks, is not included in the new Redwood National Park, which lies some 100 miles to the north. The Rockefeller Forest on Bull Creek Flat, the Garden Club of America Grove, the Children's Forest and many other memorial groves are protected within this Redwood state park.

The Save - the - Redwoods League is trying to help the State round out present park boundaries by acquiring lands within and adjacent to the Park still held by private owners. Numerous parcels within the Park and valuable upland watershed remain to be purchased before Humboldt Redwoods can be consired complete as a ecological unit.

SOCIAL SECURITY AND YOU

by Raymond MacDonald

Q. When my first husband, a high school teacher, died no benefits were payable to me or the children because he was not insured under Social Security. I remarried and my second husband died after we were married about ten months. He was covered under Social Security, but no benefits were payable to me or the children because the marriage lasted less than a year. Has there been a change that would benefit us?

A. Yes, you and the children may now be eligible on your second husband's account. A recent change in the law reduced from twelve months to nine months the time a marriage or step relationship must have lasted. Where death occurred in the armed forces, or was accidental, the relationship requirement may be met in some cases after three months of marriage. You should file a new claim for yourself and the children.

Q. I am working and paying Social Security on the maximum amount taxable. My husband also works and pays Social Security on the maximum amount. I have been told that when I file I will receive benefits on my husband's account. Is this true?

A. No. If the amount that you would receiv on your own account is equal to or greater than the amount you would be entitled to on your husband's account, you would only receive benefits on your own account. Otherwise, you would be rceeiving a would be rceeiving an amount greater than you are permitted to receive under present laws.

Q. When I put in for disability benefits I furnished a report from my doctor. Then I received a letter saying that Social Security wanted me to go to another doctor for a special examination. This was paid for by Social Security, but why was it necessary?

A. Sometimes the doctors who make the decisions on a disability claim need the results of a special test. When this is necessary, Social Security always pays the cost of the examination and the transportation to the doctor.

'Potentially Disastrous'

The State Board of Forestry has warned that the 1969 forest and range fire season, which has already started in some sections of California, is "potentially disastrous."

The board issued the warning on the basis of evidence presented to it by the State Division of Forestry that the heavy snows and rains of the past winter have set up a "bad situation" in which anything may happen.

A major factor is that the heavy snow pack at the higher elevations will keep many camp grounds closed until late in the season if, indeed, some of them open at all. This will have the effect of forcing many vacationists into lower foothill areas where the fire hazard is intensified by lush growth of grass and brush crushed by previously melted snows.

A second major factor is the loss of many access roads leading to forested areas which would normally be used to fight fires. Torrential rains caused washouts, slipouts and slides on many of these roads. Time and money simply aren't available to replace all of them for this year's fire fighting campaign.

A lesser but none the less dangerous factor is the continuing rise in the number of fires caused by children playing with matches.

The forest fighting forces of the State and Federal forest services are standing by with larger forces, more air attacks on fires and intensified fire prevention but as usual it is up to all the people to do their part in fighting this menace. That goes both for people who live the year around in the forested areas and the urban people who visit the areas for hunting, fishing, camping and other recreation.

As Smokey the Bear says, "Only people can prevent forest fires." This is the year for all of us to make an extra effort to do just that.

Food Stamp Laws Liberalized

Liberalization of income allowances in determining California's welfare assistance grants will be reflected also in more non-assistance households being eligible for the Food Stamp program.

The California Department of Social Services and the United States Department of Agriculture have agreed upon a new schedule of net expendable incomes.

William H. Leach, director, Monterey County Welfare Department, said additional non-assistance householders may wish to investigate the possibility of their eligibility to participate in the Food Stamp program.

The revised allowable net income figures, with previous figures in parentheses, are:

1 person household, $169 (previously $165); 2 persons, 205 ($200); 3 persons, $237 (225); 4 persons, $292 (285); 5 persons, $348 ($340); 6 persons, $404 ($395); 7 persons, $451 (440); 8 persons, $497 ($485); 9 persons, $538 ($525); and 10 persons, $579 (565).

The certificated staff will receive a 4 per cent cost-of-living raise plus an increase of 1 per cent to be applied toward "Goal Salary Schedule." Classified personnel will receive a 4 per cent cost of living increase plus a 1.5 per cent salary schedule raise.

In addition, all personnel will be covered by a life insurance policy as well as a group income protection plan; and classified employees will be granted 20 days vacation aften ten years of service to the district.

In a continuing effort to balance the 1969-70 college budget, the trustees raised the "adult" registration fee for students aged 21 and over from $5 to $10, with the proviso that the dean of students "or his delegate" be authorized to waive all or part of it "when financial hardship is demonstrated."

Reviews for Young Readers

By Allene Fremier

A good read-aloud book is The Great Blueness and Other Predicaments, by Arnold Lobel.

It's colorful and pleasing to the eye and the text has a pleasant rhythm.

It begins when the world was grey. There was no color at all until the wizard began mixing potions and comes up with something he calls blue. All the people like it, so they paint everything blue.

After awhile it makes everyone sad, so he experiments again and comes up with yellow. This eventually gives everyone a headache.

Next he finds red, which soon makes everyone angry.

By mistake he mixes all the colors and finds that there are many new ones — green, purple, orange and many more. So he paints things different colors and everyone is happy. It is a charming story and also introduces the idea of color mixing.

Another book having to do with color is John Hawkinson's Pastels Are Great!

He tells what pastel is, what strokes to use to obtain the effect the artist wants and contains some very good advice by advising the learner to rely on observation and technique rather than tricks or imitation.

This is a lovely book and describes the following eight strokes: Flat stroke, edge stroke, diagonal stroke, curved stroke, shaded stroke, curved shaded stroke, molding stroke and texture stroke.

The Good Llama, by Anne Anne Rockwell tells the story of how it came to be that the sun shines during the day, and the moon comes out at night.

It seems that the earth became tired of being scorched constantly by the sun, so it decides to cry and cry until it catches the sun and drowns is. The good llama tells his master to follow him to the top of the mountain, so the water will not get them.

Two by two the other animals follow them to the mountain, except the foxes, who just want to play. The water keeps rising until finally even the foxes have to follow the other animals up the mountain.

The water catches the sun, and while the sun is trying desperately to get out, the moon comes out of the water and goes up to the sky. The earth and the sun then reach an agreement that it the sun promises to go into the water once each 24-hour period, it can be released to go back to the sky.

The story is a Peruvian legend and is beautifully illustrated by Anne Rockwell.

If you have ever wondered why foxes have black tips at the end of their tails, it is because their tails touched the water when the sun was caught and the black tips are a reminder that they were late in obeying the good llama.

LWV Study Housing

Housing goals for the nation, obstacles and solutions were discussed at the last study group of the League of Women Voters held at Carmel Valley Manor.

The HUD bill was explained with its housing goal of 26 million units in the next 10 years. Of these 6 million will be subsidized, 4 million rehabilitated units.

Obstacles were analyzed to be legislative complexity, financing appropriation gap, construction codes and land use, property tax and community attitudes.

It was suggested that there be simplifaction and unification of laws, and local offices of information; that Congress be pressured to appropriate as much money as authorized for housing relief.

New local chairman is Natalie Smith.

Guidance for Potentially Baffled, Befuddled, Bewildered, Boggling, or Otherwise Uncertain School Administrators.

Several weeks ago Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., president of Notre Dame University, addressed a letter to the "Notre Dame Faculty and Students," a letter in which he outlined the procedures the University would take to control campus dissent that employs violence.

We have just obtained a copy of the letter, and the specific actions Notre Dame will take in the event of violence seems to us to be a masterpiece of clarity.

We deem it worthy to reproduce that portion of the letter, and we welcome comment.

"Now comes my duty of stating, clearly and unequivocally, what happens if. I'll try to make it as simple as possible to avoid misunderstanding by anyone. . . . Anyone or any group that substitutes force for rational persuasion, be it violent or nonviolent, will be given fifteen minutes of meditation to cease and desist. They will be told that they are, by their actions, going counter to the overwhelming conviction of this community (Notre Dame University) as to what is proper here.

"If they do not within that time period cease and desist, they will be asked for their identity cards. Those who produce these will be suspended from this community as not understanding what this community is.

"Those who do not have or will not produce identity cards will be assumed not to be members of the community and will be charged with trespassing and disturbing the peace on private property and treated accordingly by the law. . . .

". . . After notification of suspension, or trespass in the case of non-community members, if there is not then within five minutes a movement to cease and desist, students will be notified of expulsion from this community and the law will deal with them as non-students.

"Lest there by any possible misunderstanding, it should be noted that law enforcement in this procedure is not directed at students. They receive academic sanctions in the second instance of recalcitrance and, only after three clear opportunities to remain in student status, if they still insist on resisting the will of the community, are they then expelled and become non-students to be treated as other non-students, or outsiders."

County Supervisor Bob Wood says . . .

"Let's face the real issues!"

Both major candidates for Assemblyman in your district are aggressive conservationists. So, what are the true issues for you to consider? Bob Wood makes his position clear on the issues vital to you and your family.

TAX REFORM

"Statewide equalization of taxes must benefit both the homeowner and the farmer. All Californians will share alike when we lessen the burden of unfair and unrealistic residential property taxes. The property tax is a regressive tax which should not be expected to carry the burden of our expanding educational needs. Agriculture is our State's number one industry. It should be encouraged, not stifled by arbitrary assessment and land taxation."

CAMPUS UNREST

"No man of good conscience can support the violent and destructive techniques used by militant agitators throughout our country today. In California, we've always prided ourselves on our progressive educational system. But, tax supported campuses must not be a battleground for ideological extremists. Our children are entitled to seek an education without fear of harassment, reprisal or irresponsible actions by a handful of unlawful anarchists."

NARCOTICS

"Without question, drug abuse and permissive narcotic nonsense is our foremost social problem. I favor stronger laws and swifter court action which would work to curtail and discourage the growing traffic in narcotics. No family is safe from the insidious pushers who knowingly encourage addiction of our youth. No punishment is too severe for those who deal in drugs for profit."

EDUCATION

"America's future happiness lies in our ability to make our educational process meaningful. Not only must we make certain there is a place on every campus for deserving students, but we must assist those who do not aspire to university level work. Vocational training and re-training must be a vital part of our overall educational plan. If need be, it can begin on a statewide level. Through meaningful education, we can provide a proper place for every man in today's complex and challenging society."

BOYCOTTS

"The threat of secondary boycotts should be of grave concern to every voter. Indirectly, we are all affected by the success or failure of our farming community. Perishable products must not be allowed to go unharvested. Nor should California grown crops be subjected to unfair trade practices or non-competitive marketing conditions. Secondary boycotts hurt the farmer, the worker and the consumer alike."

Examine all the issues. Compare the voting records and the positions of the principal candidates for your Assembly District. You'll agree . . .

Senior Little League Off To Fast Start

The Senior Division of the Carmel Little League got off to a fast start last Saturday.

After opening remarks by Sheriff Jack Davenport and league president Paul Spencer, the Carmel Bankers met the Carmel Tigers in the first game of the season. The Bankers came out on top, 4 to 3.

The second game of the double header, featuring the Mets against the Lions, wasn't decided until the last half of the seventh inning, when Chuck Frey smashed a bases-loaded home run to pull the Lions ahead to a final score of 10-6. Chuck also hit another home run earlier in the game with one man on base.

The Senior League will play each Tuesday and Thursday night at 6 and Saturday afternoons at 1 and 3 until July 10.

All games will be played at the lower baseball diamond of the Carmel Middle School.

Rockhounds Meet

The Carmel Valley Gem Mineral Society will hold its monthly meeting tomorrow night, June 6, in Brey Hall, Carmel High School.

Speaker for the evening will be George Staples, a noted lecturer in gem cutting who will show a collection of pictures to illustrate his presentation.

Included will be outstanding samples of the lapidary art, and his lecture, which he calls "King Solomon, The Rockhound," is a humorous presentation of information and techniques.

Staples, a former resident of Rawlings, Wyo., and lately of Sacramento, is president of the "Fossils for Fun" Club, and a noted archaeologist.

The Rockhounds welcome visitors and refreshments will be served.

For further information, call Sally Mullnix, 624-2339.

Hughes 'Stamps' Carmel Rotary

J. R. Hughes, a professional philatelist for more than 25 years, told Carmel Rotarians yesterday what to look for to avoid being cheated by stamp collecting "con" artists.

Hughes, who began studying stamps under his father's tutelage, is the leading dealer in East Asian stamps in the entire world, although he does occasionally handle stamps of a general nature.

He spoke at the regular Wednesday luncheon meeting of Rotary at the La Playa Hotel. Next week's speaker will be Bob Wood, Republican Assembly candidate.

Two Benefit Performances of 'Oliver' for Project Hope

The Baha'i Community, in cooperation with "House of Peace," a new Carmel gallery and gift shop, is making plans to sponsor a benefit performance of "Oliver" July 9 for Project HOPE. Both matinee and evening performances at 2:30 and 8:30 p.m. at the Cinema 70 in the Del Monte Center, will be included in the benefit.

Project HOPE (Health Opportunity for People Everywhere) was established nine years ago as the principal activity of the People to People Health Foundation, Inc. of Washington, D.C., an independent non-profit corporation.

Its principal objective is to teach medical, dental, and paramedical personnel in developing countries the latest techniques of U.S. medical science.

The Project HOPE hospital ship has completed many successful missions in many parts of the world since her maiden voyage to Indonesia and South Vietnam in September 1960. These include missions to Peru (1962-63), Equador (1963-64), Guinea (1964-65), Nicaragua (1966), Colombia (1967), and Ceylon (1968-69), each voyage averaging ten months. The ship will next be in Tunisia (1969-70).

Norbert Kammer and Jana Stroessler, proprietors of "House of Peace" have been asked to head the committee which will make final arrangements for the theater benefit and for a special luncheon and dinner preceeding each performance.

Tickets and contribution information may be obtained by contacting House of Peace, P.O. Box 185, Dolores & 5th, Carmel, 624-5550.

Evelyn B. Sharp Resignation Accepted By CUSD

A resolution of appreciation for 31 years of dedicated service to students in California schools, 12 of them as biology teacher at Carmel High School by Miss Evelyn B. Sharp, was adopted at the last Carmel school board meeting.

There were several other resignations. At the high school, Mrs. Jeanne Fostnot, art teacher, resigned to accept a position in American International School in Tehran. Mary Kalinyak, business teacher also resigned.

At Middle School, resignations were accepted for Christine Christy, math teacher, Rita Freeman, social studies, Mrs. Donna Haun, science and Mrs. Joan Shay, counselor. Mrs. Regina Moritz resigned to pursue studies for a Masters degree in Education specializing in art curriculum development.

Instrumental music teacher at Carmel Middle School, J. W. Larson, requested a year's leave of absence without pay.

In other school board business:

Mrs. Eileen Woodington was hired as girls' counselor at the high school; Mrs. Nancy Woodward to teach Spanish and French at Middle School.

The board agreed to contribute $3000 towards new uniforms for the high school band toward a total of $6500.

In order to avoid the high interest rate involved in a three year lease-to-purchase plan, it agreed to advance the remainder, to be paid back from a combination of the high school supply and equipment budget, the Student Body budget and funds raised by the high school band.

Cabrillo Music Festival Schedules First Performance of Chevez Piece

Lt. Governor Ed Reinecke, chairman of the California Bicentennial Celebration Commission has extended the commission's congratulations to the Cabrillo Music Festival for their initiative in obtaining the world premiere performance of "Discovery," a composition by the noted Mexican composer Carlos Chavez.

In remarks prepared for a press conference in San Francisco last week at which the details of the 1969 Cabrillo Music Festival were announced, Reinecke commented that the performing arts represent one of the finest expressions of man's creativity.

"We of the Bicentennial Celebration Commission are delighted to see the support being given to the Bicentennial theme through such events as the Cabrillo Music Festival during 1969 and 1970," he added.

The Chavez composition was specially commissioned by the Cabrillo Guild of Music and is dedicated to the Bicentennial. It commemorates the Portola Expedition which marked the beginning of permanent settlements in California in 1769.

"Discovery" will be performed during the final event of the two-weekend festival at Cabrillo College in Aptos, California, on Sunday, Aug. 24. The composer will be present for the performance, which will be one of the highlight musical events during the first year of the two-year Bicentennial celebration in California. Representatives of the Commission will be present for the performance.

Performing the work will be Amici della Musica, the first fully professional chamber orchestra on the West Coast. Richard Williams, 29-year-old founder of the orchestra, will conduct the work.

This year's festival program, the seventh annual, will be presented Aug. 15, 16, 17 and Aug. 22, 23, 24.

FRED FARR
IS OUR FRIEND

FROM THE
Monterey Peninsula Herald

OCTOBER 4, 1966
. . . "His valiant battle in behalf of conservation, often against powerful interest groups, has benefited all California, as it will benefit future generations." . . .
"Senator Farr's authorship of Proposition 3 as well as his accomplishments in many other fields of conservation deserve the thanks not only of his own constituents but of all Californians."

NOVEMBER 1, 1966
. . . "But it is Senator Farr's feeling for our community, his knowledge of its problems, and its people, that stands out above all. We believe that his record in our behalf, coupled with his seniority and proven ability, deserve our support. Let us send Senator Farr back to Sacramento. We need him." . . .

MAY 31, 1966
. . . "Since State Senator Farr has been in office, Monterey County has benefited by the best team work between the office of state senator and that of assemblyman in our memory, despite the fact that they are of opposing parties. Measures of interest to this county have been vigorously and successfully supported by both. The Herald believes that Mr. Farr has earned the right to be returned to office on his record." . . .

FEBRUARY 2, 1967
Statement by Allen Griffin, Publisher:
. . . "Griffin said that Farr showed courage when he 'gave opposition to Humble Oil (which planned a refinery at Moss Landing) though he knew he was jeopardizing his political career by doing so'."
"In closing, Griffin said, 'When we sing the Battle Hymn of the Republic, we think of men like Fred Farr!'"

FROM THE
SALINAS CALIFORNIAN

OCTOBER 28, 1964
"The Californian has opposed Farr in the past and undoubtedly will in the future on specific issues; but it believes that he should be re-elected on November 3. Likewise the Californian has worked closely with Senator Farr on items seriously affecting Monterey County. He has always willingly and expeditiously assisted with his energy and his valuable experience in Sacramento. His outstanding record of legislative accomplishment compels both respect and support. Monterey County will not find a better, harder working, or more accessible State Senator than Fred Farr."

FROM The Rustler

OCTOBER 20, 1966
"One thing the press will tell you about Senator Fred Farr is that he always does his nomework."
"This in political parlance means that Senator Fred Farr takes care of the interests of his district."
"To do this means that he must know the District thoroughly know how the people make their living, what they enjoy, what their aims are, their problems, their hopes. He must know the people."
"We have an opportunity to retain the man whom we know is conversant with our lives in Southern Monterey County, in particular, and the area as a whole. His opponent, on the other hand, is unfamiliar to us, our needs, to our area."
"We believe Senator Farr's record of achievement in our behalf on local matters, coupled with his experience and proven ability, deserves the support of this area to return him to Sacramento."

'Walter Mitty' Chorus Tryouts At Circle Tonight, Everyone Welcome

The Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula announces chorus auditions for "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty," a delightfully entertaining new musical based on the classic story by James Thurber.

The auditions will be held Thursday, June 5, 7:30 p.m., at the Circle Theater, Carmel, under the direction of Roy Baxter, and music director, Tom Fordham.

The intricate and spirited chorus requires the ability and talent of actors to put across such exuberant musical numbers as "Drip Drop Tapoketa," "The Walter Mitty March," "Fan the Flame," "Confidence," and the title song.

Each actor in the chorus is a definite Thurber character with lines to speak and songs to sing.

The audition is open to men and women of all ages, and the only requirement is a desire and willingness to perform in this community project. You may bring your own prepared music, or you will be supplied with a simple melody to be sung in groups.

"Walter Mitty" is scheduled to open July 11, and will play Wednesdays through Sundays, alternating weekly with "Sweet Charity" through Labor Day.

If you are unable to attend the Thursday audition and wish to arrange another time, or if you wish additional information, please call the theater at 624-2669.

Movie Review

Winning — Paul Newman and his real-life wife, Joanne Woodward, star in this auto racing picture about drivers and their loves.

Killers Three — This is a picture for mature audiences, a kind of "Bonnie and Clyde" production with Robert Walker and country and western singer Merle Haggard.

Hell's Bells — Motorcycles are back, with a lot of stealing of bikes, counter-stealing and other stuff. Adam Roarke, Jeremy Slate and Jocelyn Lane.

Hello Down There—A delightful comedy of underwater life as Tony Randall and his wife, Janet Leigh live in an ocean-floor house for a month. Hit tune "Glub Glub" is featured, along with fascinating shots of marine life.

My Side of the Mountain—Ted Eccles and Theodore Bikel in this wonderful, warm story of a boy who, like Thoreau, feels he must get away and find himself. Filmed in Canadian forests, this is a no sex, no violence film for the whole family.

Midas Run — Three individuals plan a $15 million robbery. Fred Astaire in a straight role, supported by Richard Crenna and Anne Heywood. Filmed in Europe.

Angel In My Pocket — A simple, homespun tale about a well-meaning and guileless minister, played by Andy Griffith. Bits of broad humor pep up the proceedings.

Support Your Local Sheriff — A western comedy about a reluctant sheriff who feels he must take the job to protect the town. It was a dull town until the sheriff, James Garner, took over.

Coogan's Bluff — Arizona sheriff Clint Eastwood, in New York to pick up an escaped killer, gets involved with a group of LSD addicts.

Thomas Crown Affair — Steve McQueen is a bored and rich guy who masterminds a bank heist, and Faye Dunaway is the insurance bloodhound sent to get him.

Can Heironymus Merkin Ever Forget Mercy Humppe and Find True Happiness?—After the title, there's no room for a review. All star cast.

The Shoes of the Fisherman—A simple priest comes to Rome to become Pope and strives for peace amid the turmoil of the modern world. Anthony Quinn, Laurance Olivier, Oskar Werner, John Gielgud and Vittorio De Sica.

Stage Review

Born Yesterday — A great cast makes this production of the Broadway smash an outstanding piece of entertainment. Rod Allison, fresh from a smashing success in "Roar of the Greasepaint, Smell of the Crowd," is smooth and truly capable as the writer who is hired to knock off the rough edges from dumb blonde Billie, paramour of a wheeler-dealer junk dealer on a nefarious junket to Washington. Real funny comedy at the Studio Theater-Restaurant. Better make reservations at 624-1661.

Me and Thee — Community Players, or Golden Bough Players, as you prefer, in a bit of hilarity featuring a judo-chopping meter maid, hippies, both alcoholic and non-alcoholic, and an assorted gathering of zanies whose irrepressible antics make for side-splitting comedy that almost approaches slapstick, and what's wrong with that? Deft direction, superb staging and enthusiastic acting make this an excellent value. Call 624-2669, and make reservations with the dulcet voice that answers.

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

"His and Hers Summer Specialties"

Do Nancie and Mervin Sutton know their groceries? How could it be otherwise when leaving here certainly wasn't the answer.

Both were born, raised, educated and married (to each other!) in Carmel. Graduating from Sunset, Carmel High and M. P. C., (Nancie a year after Merv), these two very attractive young people stayed right in the place they love.

It all started when Walter and Harold, father and uncle of Nancie, opened "Nielsen Brothers Market" on Dolores in Carmel, just about 40 years ago.

Now both retired and traveling extensively, they haven't a worry in the world. They are visiting ports at leisure . . . free from business worries.

The reason: Merv learned the intricacies of personalized catering to our Peninsula's continental and local tastes by observing, while delivering "the goods" as a student. He studied well, for today Nielsen's is "His and Hers."

It's an everyday route to drop by and acquire limited items for your Party Plans Person. Everyone is so pleasant, in such an unpretentious way. It's actually like a club — the non-snob kind. Merv has a staff of seven cheerful, careful assistants who are intuitively on the alert. They know who's who even by the way the several phones sound.

Yet if a child comes in with a few pennies for a candy bar, the treatment is the same. Who could expect more?

We took a tour of the shelves. Oh my! We restrained ourselves because the urgent temptation to "give another party" at home was over-powering. So instead, we're listing those lovely items we (the Editorial we) would prefer most to reach for when unexpected or overexpected guests arrive.

Such as: the seasoning shelves. "Zesty seasoning brings new dimensions to your meals" (Quoted:) Couldn't have improved on that excepting that it all sounds so eatable. We're trying to stay on a diet. Let's make it a Nielsen one.

A few statistics that Phyllis would like you to know: Those "green flageolets" from France for cassoulets; also canned Fancy Giant White Asparagus as a separate course, served well chilled with a fresh lemon-olive oil covering . . . or a toss of those recently developed salts flavored either with lemon, garlic, pepper, teriyaki or celery.

Or else the fresh Salinas California Asparagus either served just undercooked by steaming or French fried. The vegetables, salad greens and fruits are superior, as is the amazing variety of canned and frozen items.

Let's give you several Sutton specialties, on the "His & Hers" theme (exclusive for Party Plans).

Merv's Barbequed Filet of Beef

Three lbs. filet of beef surrounded with fat; your favorite meat sauce; charcoal briquets. Serves 2 or 3.

Marinate the filet all day in "Harry and David" bottled meat sauce, which Merv says is the best ever.

Barbeque over very hot coals until done according to preference, which they like medium rare. The unusual part, Merv told us is that the fat around the filet shrivels up and the meat swells into the most delicious tasting slices imaginable. He does this over an hibachi in the indoor fireplace or outside over the grill.

There are twin hibachis connected together available now which are perfect for "Tips and Tails," one for filet or sirloin tips, the other for rock lobster tails.

The colossal "Harden-en Krisp" asparagus with drawn butter; a green salad with hearts of butter lettuce and the huge avocados from a privately owned Santa Barbara orchard; French garlic-buttered heated bread; and for dessert, Nancie just takes a Pepperridge layer cake out of the freezer a short time before supper. They come in chocolate, vanilla or coconut layers and frozen while still hot from the oven, and require no effort whatsoever.

Nielsen's was the first store to obtain a liquor license in Carmel and has a complete stock of the best imported and American liquors and wines. Merv suggests a rose Mateus from Portugal for grilled meats.

Coffee and tea is also in great profusion on the shelves at Nielsen's. So much so that it is sometimes confusing to choose . . . trying various ones is the only way.

Nancie's Grape Leaves

Simplicity itself is "Her" choice, as Nancie has other "duties," such as taking care of their very young children.

So she opens up a jar of grape leaves. These are rinsed in hot water and drained. Mix together 1 lb. ground lamb or beef; ½ cup finely chopped onion; ¼ cup raw rice; ½ cup tomato sauce; 3 T. chopped parsley; salt, pepper, paprika. Spread a grape leaf on a "wrong-side-up" plate, the leaf's stem end towards you and cut off stem. Place 1 t. filling near stem end, fold over sides of leaf, roll away from you into thin rolls. Place these in pan lined with un-

Letter To The Editor

Just before he left for Europe on a buying trip, Traylor Dunwoody, a partner in the Luciano Antique Galleries in Carmel and Del Monte Center, wrote the following letter to the Carmel City Council.

It is a plea for the return to the original charm and beauty of the Carmel area, and in the letter are contained several ideas certainly worth exploring.

The Pine Cone prints the letter with some extraneous portions deleted.

Honorable Members of the Carmel City Council:

It has come to my attention as I am sure it has come to many others that Carmel has an ever worsening problem with its traffic and pedestrian walk ways and cross walks. They have both come to an almost stand still during a five month period starting in May through September and as the years have past you are seeing this during most every month of the year. . . .

. . . I would like to sit with you to work over this problem which is most delicate, but could be handled in the most charming and beautiful of ways, helping us to maintain Carmel as it should be — A lovely place to live and shop in leisure as we were all able to do many years ago.

This will take sacrifice by many people, but I believe that the few will simply have to sacrifice for the many and to help save Carmel from something that is simply not tolerable.

To be brief, I would like to outline a possible means to accomplish this, not all at once but over a reasonable period of time with artistic control and good planning.

Ocean should be closed to traffic altogether from Junipero to Monteverde. Then all those side streets between 6th and 7th in that closed area on Ocean should be also closed to traffic making fountained malls for pedestrians only, with the eventual inclusion of the streets between 5th and 6th. . . .

Parking: Allow a parking building behind the I Magnin Center. Also possibly underground parking below Junipero and the park across the way from I Magnin.

Next would be to move services — grocery, gas stations and such, to a service center for each. There are very few markets that would need to move and the city would have to help them or buy them out.

This does not have to be done all at once. But I believe it is the only way we can solve some of our problems. I think you will also find that it will be a great help in keeping Ocean from becoming a near drag strip in the summer.

I am not a resident of Carmel, but I do own two businesses here and those of you who know me will know of my art background as a member of the Carmel Art Association. My interest in Carmel is for its beauty and not its monetary rewards to me.

With every year that we pause in this venture it will cost us more and make it more difficult to move businesses that will have to move.

As time moves on you will find more and more problems unless we move now. The fire station should be moved. It is in a most unfortunate location for its function. Again Junipero would make much more sense.

These are not new ideas but I think that possibly there might be a little something that might be new or that might be helpful to you. I would like to help this lovely city.

Very truly yours
Traylor Dunwoody

Broccoli, steamed in butter, with canned "Aunt Penny's" hollandaise sauce, sparked with lemon juice; Melba toast with sweet butter and champagne jelly; huge fresh strawberries with long stems, soaked in Cointreau or Kirsch and that's Nancie's special little dinner party. An integral part of Nielsen's is the meat market which has been managd by Melvin Snyder for the past 22 years. Only the very top grade of meat, poultry, fish and seafood is available.

"Mel," gave us "His" easiest recipe:

Mel's Favorite Dish

Five pork loin ends, sliced; 1; cups raw rice; 1 can cream of mushroom soup diluted with ⅓ of the empty can filled with milk. Cover and cook gently until meat is cooked through and rice is tender with most of liquid absorbed.

A jar of pickled beets or shredded red cabbage goes well with the above, plus applesauce, Hot cornbread is made from a mix.

Mrs. Snyder's contribution is

Glazed Chicken Broiler Halves

Supply half a broiler per person. Marinate for several hours in a non-sweet French dressing to which freshly crushed garlic has been added. While broiling, keep swabbing with the marinade. Ten minutes before serving, brush with a mixture of guava jelly seasoned to taste with soy sauce and Worcestershire or A-1 sauce.

Young fresh Carmel Valley corn is quickly steamed in small amount of boiling water. Huge sliced firm tomatoes encircle chive cottage cheese mounded in the center of the salad platter. A large selection of crackers is provided. Hard rolls, fresh sweet butter. Excellent coffee to go with thawd frozen cherry strudel and that's another wonderful party!

Party Plans' congratulations to Merv and Mel, Pearl, Teri, Evelyn, Kerman, Clyde, Griff and Jim — all who contribute to make Nielson's the pleasant place to shop it is.

'What Can We Do for Our World?' Is Theme of Christian Science Meeting

The power to bring concrete change that characterized the life of Jesus is still available to society, some 10,000 Christian Scientists were told at the denomination's annual meeting Monday.

"That same Christ-power is inexhaustibly present today, to be manifested in healing the world's ills just as directly as when Jesus was on earth — and just as radically," said Inman H. Douglass, chairman of The Christian Science Board of Directors. Douglass read the directors' annual message.

"What Can We Do for Our World?" is the theme that will be developed in a series of meetings and workshops continuing through today.

"Let's all unite," Douglass told the large audience, "in sharing more of the spirit of Church with the world, and maybe not so much of its letter."

If we want to change society, we have to be willing to change, he indicated.

Internal spiritual progress on the part of the individual impels outward progress, Douglass said. "And it is the most meaningful, the most satisfying way we can find to advance orderly social change," he added.

The example of the power of the Christ in the life of Jesus offers a "striking challenge to all Christians and to every Christian Church, including our own, to bring that same spiritual power to bear on all the individual and social problems of the world."

Because the human must be brought into accord with the divine, Douglass said, change is inevitable, irresistible.

A major building project is underway at The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, headquarters of the Christian Science denomination. Completion of the new Church Center by 1971 will provide a new administration building, new Sunday School building, expanded radio-television facilities, an underground garage, and a public exhibition hall. Plans also include a plaza and reflecting pool.

Extensive new building by private developers at the perimeter of the 15-acre Center will continue major renewal in Boston's Back Bay area.

Among those attending from Carmel and Carmel Valley are Mr. and Mrs. J. Floyd Field.

The concert is open to members and all interested at no charge.

There they will have two Steinways on which to play sonatas by Bach, Mozart and Poulenc and the Rachmaninoff Suite No. 2, Op. 17.

Angie Machado came to Carmel from college in 1942. She had studied in New York City with Abby Whiteside and at the Diller-Quaile School of Music.

On the west coast she studied piano With Tamara Morgan, Alexander Libermann, and in a Master Class with Egon Petri.

She was in charge of all piano classes at MPC since 1950 until last June when she retired to have more time for other interests and travel.

She serves on several boards of musical organizations and this year has been president of the Monterey Peninsula Chamber Music Society.

Frederick Schaad holds a Master of Science degree in Music Education from State University of New York. He studied piano and composition with Aurelia Gironi, New York and Warren Case.

He taught music in Buffalo and Elmira high schools until his retirement in 1962. He then came to Carmel where he is kept busy playing accompaniments for many singers.

Since Miss Machado has done much research in ensemble music for her college piano classes, she and Mr. Schaad began playing the many compositions for four hands by famous composers for their friends, then for private organizations by invitation. For those who have not heard them as a piano duo, this will be an opportunity to do so.

Christian Science Bible Lesson

"Behold, I create new heavens and a new earth; and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind."

This verse from Isaiah is part of Sunday's Christian Science Bible Lesson-Sermon on "God the Only Cause and Creator."

A correlative passage from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy states: "This scientific sense of being, forsaking matter for Spirit, by no means suggests man's absorption into deity and the loss of his identity, but confers upon man enlarged individuality, a wider sphere of thought and action, a more expansive love, a higher and more permanent peace."

OBITUARY

Ivar Akselsen, 69, aviation pioneer, died June 1.

A native of Norway, he lived in San Francisco from the age of four until 1963 when he and his wife Dorothy moved to Carmel. As a young man he formed his own business, the Pacific Aircraft Sales Co. which he sold in 1963. He is survived also by a daughter, Mrs. Donald (Sally Ann) Hubbard of Carmel, and a son, John, of San Francisco, and three grandchildren. Contributions to the Children's Home Society, 444 Pearl St., Monterey, are suggested.

Where is heaven?

Up in the sky? Far away? A place to go when you die?

Not according to Christ Jesus. He taught that "the kingdom of heaven is at hand."

If you are searching for the joy and satisfaction that constitutes this heaven, you will find our Reading Room a good place to begin.

There you will find books and periodicals that explain heaven in practical terms and give you a basis for finding true peace and fulfillment.

Ouch! New Taxes

Taxes went up again on June 1.

As if you didn't know.

An extra one cent on gasoline.

The State gasoline bite is now eight cents.

The extra penny is designed to raise about $45 million to repair public property destroyed or damaged by last winter's floods and storms.

The increase is authorized in Assembly Bill 76, and according to those who authored the bill, the tax will be removed when the damage has been repaired, or November 30, 1969, whichever is sooner.

Which is supposed to take the sting out of a new tax.

Unfortunately, the nature of taxes and politics is that once a tax is on the books —once the gouge has been in effect for a short while, and the people are used to paying it, or at least reconciled to it — it becomes permanent.

So will it be with this temporary gas tax.

November will come and go, and the eight cent gas tax will remain just that.

Just you wait and see.

Finland, World Bargain Vacation

Americans who want to spend a summer holiday in peace and quiet, either roughing it or living in style can find their dream vacation hideaway in Finland now. With tourism on the increase in this Scandinavian country, 60 holiday villages have sprung up within the last five years that provide accommodations and recreation tailor-made for everyone, regardless of needs, taste or income.

The tourist can rent a private hut in the wilderness of Lapland or a luxury villa in Central Finland at rates that start from as low as $2.50 a day to luxury class cottages at $15 a day, according to an article in "Look At Finland," the magazine published by the Finnish National Travel Association in Helsinki.

A private beach, a sauna and even a boat are standard equipment for most of the cottages, the article points out.

A Finnish holiday should have special appeal to gregarious Americans. They can enjoy the companionship of the friendly Finns, many of whom either speak or understand English.

Vacationers interested in fishing will find a Valhalla-land in the Nordic nation, too. There are more than 1500 separate fishing spots scattered around the country, offering some very fine fishing for avid anglers. A report on the sport, titled "Sports Fisherman's Pipe Dream" is included in the current issue of the publication.

Contents also cover an illuminating article dealing with information directed to foreign investors, among other subjects of interest to knowledge-seeking Americans.

A free copy of the magazine is available by writing to: Finnish National Travel Office, 505 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017.

'Too Much To See' Tourist Lament In New England

"Where do we start?"

That's the ironic lament of many families arriving in New York-New England for their big summer vacation tour — ironic because there's too much to see, not too little.

Seven states . . . six major interstate highways heading off in every direction . . . the seashore on one hand and the mountains on the other. There's no way to see it all, even for those families with four-week vacations and bottomless pocketbooks.

After 50 weeks of set schedules and living by the clock, however, most families refuse to lay out their vacation itinerary hour by hour, or even day by day, in advance. They prefer to plan each day as they go.

To do this without missing any "must-see" attractions, many tourists now use a specialized travel guide geared to the interstate highways that they travel. One such device is the Travelaide, the first map and directory designed specifically for interstate users.

Another is to check with local travel agents, who also arrange trips within the U.S.

Travelaides, available free at most interstate service stations, include a map focusing on interstate highways, interchanges and feeder highways, plus a directory listing — by exit — interstate accommodations such as motels, restaurants, tourist attractions and recreation areas.

Lifetime residents of New England have yet to see all the wonders of the great Northeast. The vacationers, coming in increasing numbers from the South and west, have to selectively "pick and choose" the places they want to visit as they barrel down the interstate highways. A specialized interstate map like the Travelaide not only spells out what's available but tells where to exit and how far before you do.

The Travelaide user can be the carefree wanderer without being the aimless wanderer.

Project Youth, Monterey, USA

by Jinny Zack

Help us help our kids!

Project Youth, Monterey County, U.S.A. needs your help.

One of the newest activities in the area, Project Youth, a non-profit organization, has been formed to bring Human Awareness groups to any interested teenager in Monterey County.

An Awareness Group consists of 12 to 15 members who meet informally and regularly under the direction of a qualified leader. The purpose of the group is to give each participant an opportunity, through direct dialogue, to express his own feelings and problems through honest, open confrontation in a trusting, non-judgmental environment.

These groups are presently available to adults in the area in the form of weekly sessions or week-end seminars.

Through Project Youth, funds will be raised to make groups available to young people of the area at no charge. Any teen-ager interested in joining a group to discuss problems and to become more aware of himself and others, is welcome.

Auxiliaries are now being formed to support the activities of Project Youth. The one in Salinas and the one in Carmel are combining efforts in their first fund-raising event, a Book Fair at the County Fairgrounds.

Besides books of all kinds, they will be selling old 78 RPM records, small antiques, book-ends, old and unusual magazines and cookbooks, and picture frames.

Artists in the area are donating paintings, sculptures, etc. to be sold at auction. Donations will be gratefully accepted and can be left at Carmel Cottages, 1st and Carpenter Streets in Carmel.

Pick-up can be arranged by calling 624-8953.

The public is invited to come to the Fairgrounds for a fun-filled day on June 15.

Besides interesting things to buy, there will be donuts and coffee in the morning, soft drinks in the afternoon, a wine-tasting party at 4, and the art auction at 5. Bring Dad and let him buy some old books and records, bid on some paintings and sculptures, and enjoy himself at the wine-tasting.

Help us help the kids! Join us at Monterey County Fairgrounds on Sunday, June 15, Fathers' Day from 10 to 6.

HAPPINESS Is Living and Working in that "Secret Garden" of Herb Caen's . . . Carmel Valley Village. (It should really read "Secret SUNSHINE Garden").

Happiness is driving out the Carmel Valley Road by the ribbon of the Carmel Valley River on its way to its Lagoon. To bask in the bright sunny garden patio at the Keeping Room, for a salubrious gourmet buffet luncheon (perhaps forget the fog at the shore).

Happiness is looking forward to the Plaza de Flores Art Fiesta — a designer-workshop weekend walk-around at Carmel Valley Village in the Pilot Road-Delfino area June 28 and 29.

Happiness is turning left on Pilot Road to the Keeping Room at No. 6, planted between two nurseries, to enjoy a colorful visit. 659-2512. Closed Mondays.

ARCHITECTURAL VERSATILITY
IN CARMEL
1. LOG COTTAGE for only $26,000. "No building material offers more aesthetic variety than the time-honored log" was the way House Beautiful described this one-bedroom cottage in a series of pictures several years ago. Time, loving care and some modernization have added a patina typical of Carmel. Offered reluctantly by owner leaving Carmel with recommendation as perfect full-time home for one person. Or, an ideal vacation retreat for small family willing to endure jealousy of their friends. Terms available.
2. MONTEREY'S ARCHITECTURAL heritage inspired an early Carmel builder when he constructed this home of stucco and used brick with overhanging balcony and heavy shake roof. Interior has open-beamed ceilings, knotty pine walls and first-grade oak floors. (Yes, it has a fireplace and double garage). The exterior interesting features were not sacrificed when recent owners added two bedrooms and another bath at rear. It is not new and does need some work . . . a challenge to a buyer with imagination. Take out a wall here, add a cupboard there, extend the veranda into a sundeck, prune a few trees to reveal the water view, redecorate and modernize according to personal desires and taste. See it now while Grandmother's old-fashioned rose bush is in blossom. Buy. Renovate. Remodel. Enjoy! Only $29,500.

College Education Funds, Tax-Free

Millions of Americans buy and hold U. S. Savings Bonds for many reasons—both personal and patriotic. One purely practical reason is the tax advantage — especially attractive when E Bonds are purchased to create "tax-free" college education funds.

E Bonds may be registered in the child's name, with a parent or the purchaser shown as beneficiary (but not as coowner). At the end of the first year of Bond purchases, a Federal income-tax return is filed in the name of the child, listing the increase in Bond value (interest) as income to the child.

Filing this one return establishes "intent," and no further returns need be filed, as long as Bond interest, plus other income, comes to less than $600. No tax is due until the income exceeds $900. Thus, when the child's Bonds are redeemed to meet college costs, the accrued interest is free from income tax.

Be sure to retain a copy of the tax return filed the first year as proof of intent.

Tax savings can be realized another way. Simply wait until the child begins to cash his Bonds to pay college expenses. The youngster then files his or her own tax return each year, reporting the full amount of interest on redeemed Bonds as income. If that interest, plus any other income, totals less than $900, no tax is owed

Remember, however, that this tax advantage applies only to Bonds registered in the child's name as owner — the coownership form of registration in the child's name as owner — the coownership form of registration may not be used for such purpose (unless the child's own funds are used in the purchase).

CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA

CARMEL is a breath of fresh air, an awareness of beauty. The materialist says of Carmel, "corny," nothin' to do. The idealist glimpses something of reality and a meaning of life in this area of great beauty.

Located, as Carmel is, almost on the west edge of the west coast, it benefits from clean Pacific air, filtered and conditioned by thousands of miles of ocean. It is snuggled into an intimate bay where it receives protection from northerly winds and is guarded by nearby Point Lobos and the Santa Lucia Mountains.

Some Carmel Business Association facts are included in the following:

BRIEF HISTORY

CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA is a residential community and art center located on the Pacific shore of Monterey County, California, 130 miles south of San Francisco and 350 miles north of Los Angeles.

Carmel is an informal, individualist town with a citizenry that constantly strives to preserve the natural beauty of ocean, hills and woods. Homes nestle around and under trees on the slopes that rise from the world-famous white sands of Carmel Beach. Local ordinances tightly restrict business zones (i.e., none on the Beach front), outlaw billboard and neon advertising, and control indiscriminate tree cutting.

Carmel has no cemetery, no mail delivery, no street addresses (mail is picked up at the local post office), and except for the business district, conventional sidewalks and street lights are missing.

The village is culturally active in music, art and little theatre groups, and features locally-made art objects in many gift shops.

CARMEL was named for the Carmelite Friars who came to the area with Viscaino in 1602. Carmel's first building, the Mission San Carlos de Borromeo (second of the great Franciscan Missions in California) was established by Father Junipero Serra in 1770.

In the early 1900's, the village of Carmel began around a group of young artists and writers. Five hundred residents living in an area of 7/8 of one square mile incorporated Carmel-by-the-Sea in 1916 and established a Mayor and City Council government.
